WEBB MILLER

ON
"Russia Today"

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Here is another of the dispatches by Webb Miller, European news manager of the United Press, on Russia as it is today).

By WEBB MILLER

MOSCOW, via London (Uncensored), Copyright, 1937, By United Press)—Creeping paralysis has stricken Soviet industry, seriously affecting fulfillment of the second five year plan for the time being.

This does not mean that industry has collapsed. But in all vital branches it is not attaining the levels set in the plan, which generally were about 20 per cent in excess of last year's production. In many cases, actual output is not even reaching the 1936 levels.

This dislocation is marked by recent disastrous drops in the production of basic industries such as coal, oil, pig iron and steel, which necessarily and immediately affect all other industry; by decreases in the productivity of labor; by a falling off in quality and large waste in consumers' goods; and by troublesome increases in labor turnover and absences from work.

Such a state of affairs was freely admitted to me during my 3000-mile trip into the interior of the Soviet Union. It even is caustically criticized and bewailed by the Soviet press. Despite the impossibility of the slightest criticism of the "party line" at any time, there is no press in the world where actual execution of the government's and the party's plans are subjected to more continuous and bitter criticism than in the Soviet Union. It is upon that point that Soviet claims of freedom of the press are based.

The newspapers are making no attempt to conceal the critical situation which now exists throughout industry and are mercilessly prodding officials and industrial directors.

A damning indictment of the state of affairs at present can easily be made out simply by reading official publications.

From the Bolshevik point of view, which regards increasing industrial production as the life blood of the Soviet organism, the situation already has reached a critical point. Political administration and industrial administration are so intertwined that they are indistinguishable and thus each reacts upon the other.

Disaffection in the communist party helped bring about dislocation in industry. And the crisis in production has widened and accelerated the present purge, which has brought tens of thousands under arrest, including directors of industry accused of not fulfilling their tasks.

The wave of arrests has terrorized directors, sub-directors, and foremen in industry. They therefore pass the buck and dodge responsibility for important decisions. That clogs production all along the line.

The confusion and hesitation are understandable when industrial directors hear that chief administrators of the cotton industry in the Moscow and Leningrad districts are under arrest for not fulfilling quotas under the five year plan. The chief of the All-Union Furniture Trust and the director of the Leningrad Cotton Trust also are among the hundreds who have been arrested for similar reasons.

V. I. Mehlhauk, the new commissar for heavy industry, who once bought an entire automobile plant in the United States and transported it to Russia, declared in speeches late in May that the majority of heavy industry was lagging behind its plans. He said that there was great confusion due to wrecking activity and criticism, with the result that many directors refused to accept responsibility.

About the same time, the Moscow newspaper Pravda charged that oil production for the first four months of the year was 965,000 tons less than the five year plan called for and was even less than in the corresponding period last year.

In the Kuzbass coal district, production fell behind the plan by 975,000 tons in the first four months. The newspaper Izvestia states that in the Donetz basin, production of coal dropped from 214,000 tons daily in January to 197,000 tons daily in July and was 6,000,000 tons behind the plan.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS SPREADS IN "MILD" EPIDEMIC

One Million Children Barred From Schools As Officials Seek To Curb Spread Of Disease; 621 New Illnesses Last Week; Oakland Reports One New Affliction On Friday

OAKLAND (UP)—Billy Stevenson, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Horatio Stevenson, was in the Alameda county hospital today suffering from infantile paralysis. An "iron lung" respirator was at his bedside ready for use.

ILLNESSES SHOW INCREASE

CHICAGO, (Copyright, 1937, By United Press)—An epidemic of quick striking, deadly infantile paralysis, mysterious disease for which science has evolved a partial cure but not a preventive, spread northeastward across the center of the United States today.

The U. S. Public Health Service announced the epidemic was a "mild" one. It reported 621 new cases in the country last week, and 492 the week before.

Public officials pressed police, parents and civic organizations into a campaign to prevent more serious developments.

Already, more than a million children—potential victims—have been barred from schools in Chicago, Milwaukee, Buffalo, N. Y., Omaha, Nebraska, Waukesha, Wisconsin, Fort Collins, Colorado, and San Diego County, California. Detroit and Toronto, Ontario, considered similar preventive measures.

Police in Milwaukee and Waukesha, Wisconsin, were under orders to prevent public gatherings of children. Keep those under seven out of public parks and playgrounds, arrest parents who permit their children to loiter in crowds.

Chicago's 300 theaters refused to admit children under 16.

Omaha, Nebraska, cancelled its Labor Day parade and a homecoming celebration for Golfer Johnny Goodman. The annual baby show of the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto, Ontario, was called off.

Origin of the disease and its method of spread are not fully understood, Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, said. It appears, however, to find most of its victims in crowds.

Ordinarily, it is most prevalent in August and September. Cooler weather may halt its spread.

Infantile Paralysis Claims 200 Victims

By UNITED PRESS

Infantile paralysis first evidences itself in nausea, fever, stiffness of back and neck muscles. It may paralyze the trachea or lungs and cause suffocation, or paralyze the heart and bring sudden death.

It has caused more than 200 deaths this year. Some of its victims are left permanently crippled.

A serum made from the blood of recovered victims is efficient if administered before paralysis sets in. The serum is not a preventive.

30 Days Clear In August

Mean Temperature 73; Range Of 49 Degrees Is Recorded On 3 Different Days

Placerville's weather during August was sufficient to encourage residents to spend their vacations at home, according to the summary for the month, filed Friday by Adolph Martin, local P. G. & E.-U. S. weather bureau co-operative observer.

Maximum for the month was 106, on August 12, and the minimum was 41 on August 30th with a mean of 73 degrees.

There was no precipitation during the month and thirty days were clear, the other partly so.

Greatest range of temperature during the month was 49 degrees, recorded on three different dates. On August 11 the maximum was 105 and the minimum 56; on August 21 the maximum was 100 and the minimum 51 and on August 30 the maximum was 90 degrees and the minimum 41 degrees.

The report also notes an absence of winds of more than moderate intensity.

Couple Recently Wed To Reside In Wisconsin

SACRAMENTO—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith will leave Sunday for Madison, Wisconsin to make their home following their marriage Sunday in Placerville. Mrs. Smith is the former Miss Esther Hulen. Both are well known in Sacramento.

The wedding took place at 2 p. m. in the garden of the home of the bride's uncle, George Wyman, in Placerville. Rev. Barr Lee officiated and Wyman gave his niece in marriage.

Mrs. Smith wore a gown of white slipper satin made with a tight fitting bodice and low square neck. The sleeves were shirred and puffed. The bride carried a small prayer book, and in her hair was a wreath of small pink roses. A corsage of Cecil Brunner roses was arranged at the neck.

Mrs. Harley O. Smith of Alameda attended the bride, and she wore a pale blue organdy frock. H. O. Smith was best man for his brother.

A reception for the relatives present followed in the Wyman home. The couple left on a honeymoon trip, the bride wearing a gray sheer wool suit with matching accessories.

Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Mrs. A. E. Hulen of Placerville, and she has made her home there with her mother and uncle. She is a graduate of Sacramento Junior College and the San Jose Teachers College.

Smith, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Smith of Fair Oaks, also is graduated from the local junior college and the University of California.

Mrs. Ruth Willis is on a few days of leave from her duties in the district attorney's office.

Moral: Don't Shake Pants Out Train Window

BUDAPEST (UP)—Because his bees neglected their jobs, Anton Kertesz, 52-year-old farmer at Nyiregyhaza village, has just spent three days in a lunatic asylum.

When he found that his two hives did not produce enough honey, he put the insects in jugs covered with paper, embarked on a train with them for Budapest to consult the Apary Institute here. Enroute the bees escaped and several slithered up Kertesz's trouser leg. The modest farmer induced fellow travelers to leave the compartment, proceeded to divest himself of his nether garments, which he shook out of the window. A gust of wind snatched the pants from his hands.

Along came the conductor, heard fellow travelers' stories, saw Kertesz pantless, and wired ahead promptly for the asylum wagon. The farmer's pleas were fruitless. It was three days before he managed to convince authorities of the truth—and he spent that time securely confined.

Kertesz has given up apiculture.

83rd State Fair Opens Today

4-Club Boys And Girls Halt Davis Convention To Visit Exposition

By JACK WELTER

United Press Staff Correspondent
SACRAMENTO (UP)—California farmers of past, present and future pressed through the turnstiles today into a modernized exposition ground packed by thousands of opening day visitors to the 83rd annual state fair.

Youth predominated the scene. Hundreds of children stormed down the Bear flag promenade from the main fair ground gates when Governor F. F. Merriam formally opened the exposition at 10 a. m.

Today was Farm Bureau Day and 4-H Club Day and farmers whose harvesting days are over, their sons and their sons' sons, strolled together through the great $3,000,000 exposition plant, sprawling over 155 acres.

One thousand youths came to the fair in one body by special train from a Davis 4-H Club gathering which attracted boys and girls from 40 counties. Sacramento schools and those in surrounding communities were dismissed for the day, adding additional droves of youngsters.

REOPENING OF HEARING ON P. G. & E. EMPLOYEES UNIT SOUGHT

The National Labor Relations Board will be asked to reopen hearings on the question of what unit of Pacific Gas & Electric employees is to be the agent for collective bargaining with the company. Grounds for the re-hearing are given as new evidence showing that the membership of California Gas & Electric Employees Union now represents more than 51 per cent of all eligible employees, and therefore the board should recognize it as the appropriate unit for bargaining.

Decision to take this action was reached after the management of Pacific Gas & Electric Company refused at a recent conference with the union's board of directors, to grant demands for recognition as sole bargaining agent, for the closed shop and for the "checkoff" system. The company's refusal to grant these demands was based on its claim that it is not engaged in interstate commerce, and therefore not subject to the provisions of the Wagner Act, and the further grounds that while the question of which group of employees is to be recognized is pending before the N. L. R. B., it would be improper for the company to recognize any group as sole bargaining agent.

The attorney for the C. G. Q. E. Union, J. L. Henry of Sacramento, is preparing an appeal to the N. L. R. B. to reopen the case.

CLEVELAND (UP)—On the front porch of Mrs. W. Voloshen's home an electric light bulb with a sharp glass point at the bottom fell 7 feet from the ceiling and pierced the porch floor. The bulb did not even crack.

WAR VICTIM — Anthony Billingham, special correspondent of the New York Times, who received what is feared may be fatal wounds when a bomb exploded in Shanghai at the Nanking and Chekiang Roads, killing at least 400 people. He was rescued from the shambles by Hallett Abend, Times Shanghai bureau manager, who was also injured.

BRITAIN, FRANCE HUNT "PIRATES"

Paris And London Send Fleets To Mediterranean With Orders To Protect Commerce

By RICHARD D. McMILLAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON (UP)—British and French warships sped into the Mediterranean today to wage war on "pirate" submarines that have attacked 20 ships in recent weeks.

Britain sent, as a first reinforcing fleet, eight destroyers; France sent a strong submarine chasing fleet.

All these ships, and the ones already in danger zones, were ordered to sink any submarine that attacked peaceful commerce.

It was understood that the French and British governments had agreed that French warships would protect British merchantmen and British warships would protect French merchantmen.

It means, presumably, that submarines are to be sunk without trace. This avoids the possible embarrassment that would arise if a submarine were captured and turned out to belong to a "friendly" nation instead of to the Spanish Nationalists.

3-DAY ADMISSION DAY CELEBRATION AT SANTA MONICA

SANTA MONICA—Thousands of Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West representing every Parlor in the state will invade Santa Monica, September 8th, 9th and 10th to participate in their traditional Admission Day celebration, marking the 87th birthday of California.

Eldred L. Meyer of Santa Monica, grand president of the Native Sons and honorary chairman of the celebration reports that every Native Son and Native Daughter Parlor in California will be represented at the fete with many of them bringing bands, drum corps, marching units and beautifully decorated floats for the big parade September 9.

Raymond D. Williamson, chairman of the San Francisco Admission Day committee reports that over 3,000 Native Sons and Daughters from San Francisco together with city dignitaries will attend the fete. Other cities in the bay area and Northern California are planning extra large and spectacular turnouts to the Santa Monica celebration.

Arizona Killer Dies By Lethal Gas

FLORENCE, Ariz. (UP)—David Benjamin Knight, 32, walked with a firm stride into the state prison gas chamber today and was executed for murdering a man and dropping his sacked body into the Gila River.

At 3:56 a. m. MST, Warden A. J. Narnes cut the string that dropped a sackful of cyanide pellets into abucket of sulphuric acid beneath the chair to which Knight was strapped.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Walters have returned from a vacation visit to Oregon, Washington and British Columbia.

Charles Evans was a visitor on Friday from Whitehall.

CHINESE BREAK JAPAN LINES

Hate-Maddened Native Force Overwhelms 60,000 Troops In Battle At Shanghai

By H. R. EKINS

United Press Staff Correspondent
SHANGHAI, (Copyright, 1937, By United Press)—Hate-maddened Chinese, charging into the very jaws of Japanese cannon tonight overwhelmed 60,000 Japanese soldiers who were trying to drive them from this bomb torn city. They broke the Japanese lines in five places.

The Chinese again reached the banks of the Whanpoo River and tried to drive the invaders into the waters of the corpse littered stream.

So desperate was the Japanese position that a spokesman for Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, commanding the Japanese third battle fleet, announced that "the Imperial Navy may have to change its attitude and attack Chinese civilian areas."

The statement caused new panic among more than a million Chinese refugees jammed into crowded native quarters around the international settlement and the French concession. Many of them risked death to flee into the interior.

Shells fell in the Anglo-American area of the international settlement and several Europeans were wounded.

One anti-aircraft shell landed on the roof of the U. S. marines second battalion headquarters but it did no damage and there were no casualties.

Twenty Japanese warships in the Whangpoo, including the shell scarred flagship Idzumo, were subjected to a Chinese cannonade and machine gun strafing. It was believed many sailors were killed.

Russia To Free Outer Mongolia

Nanking Hears Rumor Area Under Soviet Protectorate May Return To China

NANKING (UP)—A persistent but unconfirmed report circulated here tonight that Soviet Russia soon will announce that outer Mongolia in future shall be considered "an integral part of the Chinese Republic."

The declaration, according to the report, would be a result of the Chinese-Russian non-aggression pact announced in Moscow and Nanking and would be designed to strengthen Chinese resistance to Japan.

Outer Mongolia has been an "independent-autonomous state" under Soviet protection since 1924 when the young Mongol party rebelled against China because of dissatisfaction at Chinese colonial policy among the Mongol tribes.

Grace Moore, Singing Star, Faces Major Operation

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Grace Moore, the movie star and grand opera singer, was in a hospital today for a major operation, the nature of which her doctor refused to discuss. Dr. Samuel Hirschfeld said he would perform the operation within the next few days but all plans for it were kept secret.

"EVER SINCE EVE," BRIGHT FARCE, ENDS TONIGHT AT EMPIRE

Two stars of immense popularity, and of well deserved top rank among comedy players, wind up an appearance tonight at the Empire Theater in "Ever Since Eve."

They are Marion Davies, the lovely blonde comedienne, and Robert Montgomery, the debonair youth who has been leading man in so many gay movies.

Miss Davies and Montgomery are co-starred in the liveliest, fastest-moving farce either has played in for a long time.

Miss Davies plays the part of a stenographer who has been so harassed by employers because of her golden-haired beauty that she disguises herself with a dark wig and glasses and goes looking for another job.

Montgomery is a novelist who is crazy about blondes, but is forced to accept this seeming brunette forced upon him by his hard-boiled woman publisher, who wants him to keep his mind on his work.

He is therefore strictly business during working hours, with Marion there, but it chances that he meets her socially, one evening, when she's not disguised.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK (U.P.)—This column can be read in ten minutes. It was written in five. In fact, it isn't compulsory to read it at all. Turn to the next page and learn how to bake a chocolate layer cake.

1. Bill Terry. Here is one of fate's footballs I feel genuinely sorry for. He is a peerless manager, and all he gets is abuse—except from the Giant paymaster, who will dole him $40,000 per year until 1943. Not since Jack Sharkey was sneering at the populace, has anybody made unpopularity pay so well. Bill has now got himself up to $5 a frown and $10 per tactless remark. He counts the house before the hits. If nine more people get mad at him, he'll have more to leave for art than Andrew Mellon.

2. Maxie Baer. Mama, that man is here again. The Pacific pop-off, who quit (?) fighting to lead an off-key jazz band two years ago, is again being mentioned as a challenger for the world heavyweight title. If you ask me, I think Louis should sue for libel.

3. Female tennis players. The crop is getting prettier, but they are frightful bores when the bell rings. Crime would be greatly reduced in this country if the penalty were three hours of compulsory observation of women's mixed doubles. You could put all our yeggs in one basket if a judge made them serve their time in Forest Hills grandstand.

4. Joe Jacobs. . . . Flistiana's wandering Joe. His fighter, Maxie Schmeling, is getting such a long distance run-around that he has split up the distance and has given Joe the first 100 yards. Max barely speaks to the man who once made him champ, gives him no money—not even for the black cigars that are like an oxygen tank to him—and generally treats him shamefully.

5. Bob Pastor. Rumor has it that Jimmy Johnston's stream-lined speedster in the heavyweight mess will take a job on one of the bicycle excursion trains which have become a fad in these parts. He will demonstrate back-pedaling, riding no hands and other feats of agility and skill. Bob believes this will help him if he has to race—pardon, fight—Louis again.

6. Burleigh Grimes. He provided his worth as a big league manager in only one season when he took an eighth-place club, the Dodgers, and kept them there. This shows Grim, dogged determination, for Burleigh wouldn't yield an inch to the Phillies or the Reds. The dugout Dempsey, who talks almost as good a ball game as he loses, has the Brooklyn directors in a dither. They can't decide whether to keep Grimes and throw away the club, or keep the club and throw away Grimes. It never occurred to them, possibly, to do both.

7. Dizzy Dean. Finally the St. Louis seidlitz powder has an arm to match his sore head. The Texas league should look pretty good next year, with all those Deans down there.

A payroll of approximately $12,000,000 will be necessary to harvest the cotton in the San Joaquin Valley this season.

2-Weeks Of Freedom, Convict Goes "Home"

MCLESTER, Okla. (U.P.)—Two weeks of freedom after a 14 year prison sentence were enough for James Deering, 64, parolee. He returned to the state prison and prevailed upon Warden Jess Dunn to allow him to resume his sentence.

"Freedom for me is inside here," he told Warden Dunn. "Outside is like being dressed up with nowhere to go."

Some authorities predict a brighter future for frozen fruits, berries and so forth. Fresh figs are now being packed ripe and frozen in a thin sugar syrup and sell successfully in New York.

UNICAMERAL LEGISLATURE IS OPPOSED BY CRUSADERS

The proposal to establish the unicameral, or one-house, legislature in California, the initiative petition for which was given title by Attorney General U. S. Webb's office last week, will meet with active opposition from business, industrial and agricultural organizations throughout the state, according to plans being mapped today by The California Crusaders.

"This scheme presented by Assemblyman S. W. Yorty of Los Angeles," declared Samuel J. Hume, director of the Crusaders, "is nothing more than an attempt by the disgruntled, left wing minority members of the assembly to destroy the present form of legislature by eliminating the Senate and to create in its place a glorified Assembly consisting of 80 members elected on a basis of population. If successful, they can then proceed to enact into law the mass of radical, prejudiced and ill-advised legislation which they sponsored but saw defeated during the recent session of the legislature."

TWIN IS BORN 3 MONTHS AFTER BROTHER, JOURNAL SAYS

LONDON (UP)—The story of the birth of a baby girl almost three months after the arrival of her twin brother is recorded in the current issue of "The British Medical Journal."

The mother, who had three times given birth to twins, none of whom had survived, had the first baby unexpectedly while motoring in the country.

The baby was a normal boy of just under six pounds in weight, and both baby and mother made a prompt recovery from the unusual circumstances of the confinement.

Medical advice was sought about three months later and the mother was astounded to be told that she might expect another baby very shortly. Three days after this news a baby girl arrived, weighing just under seven pounds and apparently normal in every respect.

BRITISH PRESSURE FOR U. S. CO-OPERATION IN ORIENT PROVING EMBARRASSING; SECRETARY HULL RECALLS BRITAIN'S FAILURE TO ACT IN 1931-32

By HOBART C. MONTEE
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The British government's desire for joint British-American action to restore peace in the Far East and preserve foreign rights generally in China, is proving embarrassing to this government, United Press was informed today by an authoritative source.

It is embarrassing:

1.—Because of its persistence in spite of the indifferent reception accorded here to repeated suggestions or intimations by British government spokesmen that joint action would be the most effective means for lightening the grip of Japan upon China.

2.—Because this government desires to avoid even a suggestion of any difference of opinion between these two major powers in dealing with the Far Eastern situation.

3.—Because administration officials believe there is a section of public opinion in the United States which is suspicious of Britain's motives generally in the international field and which might raise a storm of protest if this government's actions and commitments in China were linked definitely with British commitments and preservations of British rights in China.

A number of high administration officials, including President Roosevelt himself, are believed to feel that in many aspects of international relations "the British do these things better than we do."

Secretary of State Cordell Hull has let it be known he does not subscribe to the policy of leaning upon Great Britain in the matter of foreign policy.

The United Press learned that official decision on the recent British proposal for joint British-French-American action to protect all foreign nationals and their property in the international settlement at Shanghai, on condition that both the Japanese and Chinese governments withdraw armies from that area, was held in abeyance here because it was not considered that the proposal had a sporting chance of acceptance by Japan and China.

Hull, it is understood, has not permitted the British government to forget that it failed to support the United States in 1931-32 when Japan invaded Manchuria. The then Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson proposed what amounted to joint action by all the powers signatory to the nine power treaty to preserve the political and territorial integrity of China.

It is understood to be Hull's belief that if Great Britain had supported Stimson in 1931-32, and had used its

ON "Russia Today"

(Continued from Page 1) that cement production was 7.8 per cent below the planned quotas; production of harvesting machines was 10.2 per cent below and of locomotives 9.2 per cent.

Pravda, in June, asserted that absences from work and loafing in the Chelyabinsk coal basin were "alarming" and the rates of pay "disgraceful." It said that bureaucrats had been trying to saddle the responsibility on the engineers, resulting in the dismissal and fining of 156 engineers or skilled men in four months, which disorganized the work still further.

The Organ for Heavy Industry charged that the plan for the steel industry for the first six months of the year had been only 87 per cent fulfilled and that the directors "lost their heads." Figures show that pig iron production in the first four months was 210,000 tons less than in that period last year and 800,000 tons below the quota. Not a single blast furnace filled its quota. It is charged that the metallurgical industry as a whole lost 86,000,000 rubles in the first four months instead of showing a 69,000,000 ruble profit.

Coal production throughout the Soviet Union in the first six months of 1937 totaled 60,340,000 tons or 86 per cent of the quota, compared with 60,974,000 tons in the same period last year.

The pig iron shortage frustrated production all along the line. Pravda stated that although agriculture required 80,000 tons of oil, only 37,000 tons had been delivered to the end of June.

The Organ for Heavy Industry at the end of July published a sweeping general indictment of the situation, stating:

"While production of electrical energy, steel castings, rolled steel, peat and aluminum have increased, not one industry has fulfilled the government plan. The number of breakdowns at electrical stations is still large. The rate of steel production is quite unsatisfactory and cannot supply the needs of our economy.

"Machine factories continually get less metal than they should. One branch of industry gets behind, then drags another behind. Bad work of the coal and oil industry tells harmfully on metallurgy, which in turn delays machine construction."

This official organ of industry computed that in order to fulfill the second five year plan, industries would have to increase their output in the second half of this year by the following percentages over the first half: Electrical energy, 30 per cent; coal, 35; oil, 24; pig iron, 18; steel, 28; rolled steel, 43; cement, 53; copper, 85.

The situation in light industry since March has been even less satisfactory than in heavy industry. According to figures in the official press, total output in May was nine per cent less than in December and production of sorely needed cotton cloth fell off 18 per cent. Deliveries of cotton cloth in the first five months this year were 200,000,000 square meters short of the

QUEZON FIRM IN WANTING INDEPENDENCE FOR PHILIPPINES

MANILA, P. I.—In spite of the present dangerous situation in the Orient, and the virtual certainty that the Sino-Japanese conflict if continued for any length of time will have serious effects on the future history of the Philippines, President Manuel Quezon remains firm in his desire for independence from the United States at the earliest possible moment.

In a radiogram to the editors of Collier's, the Filipino president comes out flatly for early independence. His only reference to the Sino-Japanese situation is his statement that independence would relieve America "of any further responsibility for the protection of the Philippines."

Dr. and Mrs. John B. Shafhirt were in town Friday from their summer home near Whitehall.

quota; hosiery output was 25,000,000 pairs fewer than the plan called for and shoe production fell short by 2,000,000 pairs.

Furthermore, it was charged that shoe mills, in an attempt to maintain quantity production, resorted to thinning of the fabrics by as much as 25 per cent, with the result that Moscow and Leningrad mills in five months turned out 100,000,000 yards of spoiled goods.

The automobile industry is in much better condition, although it is not attaining the levels set in the plan because, according to The Organ of Heavy Industry, "the chief board of the industry is unable to establish discipline in the factories and obtain the necessary materials."

In addition to the most important factors in the partial industrial paralysis—the shortage of basic materials and the fear of responsibility, confusion and buck passing by the directors—there are many contributory elements.

Among these are what the press asserts is the "terrible state of equipment" due to abuse and overstraining of machines as a result of the Stakhanovite of speed-up system of piece work and the continuous wear and team of operation by two or three shifts; due also to the unduly large labor turnover because of disproportionate wages; the lack of discipline due to dissatisfaction over differences in living conditions of workers, specialists, Stakhanovites and bureaucrats.

This year's harvest is claimed to be the best in years and this fact, as I can testify from observations during more than 1000 miles of travel over the North Caucasus and Ukraine regions, provides a large bright spot in the prevailing gloom.

Even several weeks ago it was asserted that grain deliveries to the state had reached 4,000,000 tons, or double those of 1933, the previous record year for grain deliveries. Pravda stated that the "rich harvest increases the raw material resources of the food industry tremendously. The prospects are such that it may be confidently asserted that the food industry is guaranteed, the materials for overfulfilling the plan."

But as The Organ for Heavy Industry observed, it is a "gigantic problem" for industry to make up for its present lag in the remainder of the year.

BEAUTIFIED BOVINES WIN CHAMPIONSHIP HONORS IN ALABAMA SHOW

EUTAW, Ala. (UP)—The newest wrinkles in cattle-raising as it's done in the Deep South are finger waves for cows, manicuring and "facials."

The idea of bovine beautification, said to have been originated by Allen Grubbs, Southern cattleman, has spread so rapidly in recent months that no cattle show is complete without beautified cows.

Grubbs, who operates on a 125,000-acre plantation near here, created a minor sensation when he led into the ring a Hereford yearling whose curly ripples in crisp even rows of finger waves from stem to stern.

Not only that, but each hoof was

KNOTTY CEDAR FORMS BASE FOR PERFUMES; SENT TO EUROPE

GRAFORD, Tex. (UP)—This Palo Pinto County village, nestling in the cedar brakes along the Brazos river, has developed the largest plant in the Southwest for making the base for expensive perfume from cedar logs.

Milady probably isn't aware that a great part of her perfume is made up of the juice of the scrawny cedars from the Brazos bottoms and shipped to France and Japan and back again.

S. A. Jones owns the plant, which has a capacity of 40 gallons a day, although it seldom runs at top speed. That doesn't sound like much, but it figures importantly when it comes back in cut glass bottles at $15 an ounce or more.

The cedar juice is extracted a great deal like moonshine whisky once was made in the same brakes before repeal. The sticks and logs are shredded, then boiled in great containers. The "juice" is then distilled and put into 50-gallon barrels for export.

The cedar extract is lighter than water and is among the world's most delicate liquids. A cord of wood yields from seven to eight gallons of extract, which sells at an average price of $1.30 a gallon.

The cedar foliage, distilled in the same way, is sold as camphor. The boiled shavings are dried and used as fuel or sold to manufacturers of floor sweeps.

Will Rogers' Memory Is Kept By Rodeo

VINITA, Okla. (UP)—When Will Rogers attended the old settlers' convention in Vinita in 1934 he asked them why they didn't have some "real old-fashioned ropin'" for him when he came back the following year.

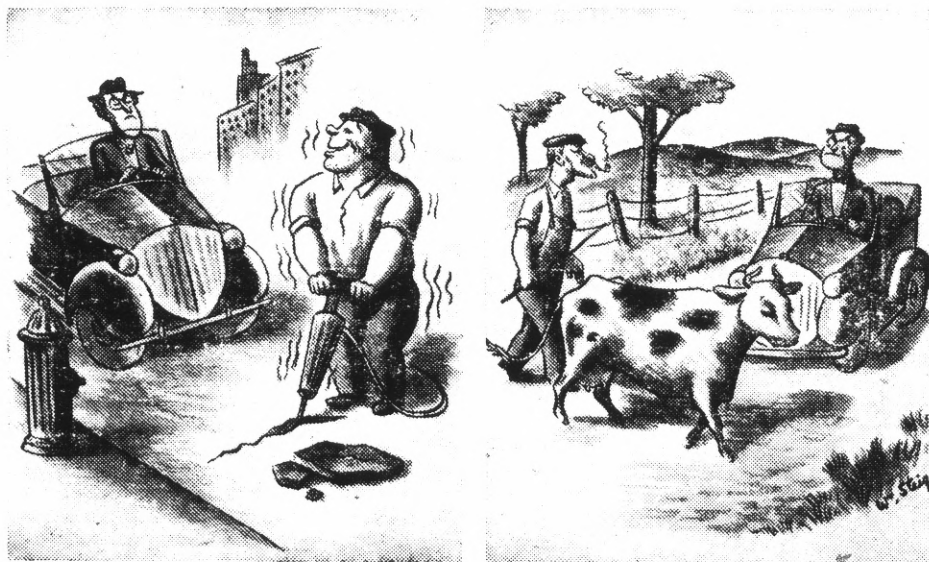

Rogers was killed in an Alaskan plane crash with Wiley Post the next August, but citizens here went ahead with the rodeo, and in honor of the cowboy-humorist they named it the "Will Rogers Memorial Rodeo."

The third annual memorial rodeo will be held for three days, beginning today. It is sponsored by the Vinita American Legion post.

4 out of every 5 miles you drive are Stop and Go

YOUR own driving experience tells you you can't GO very far these days without STOPPING!

That's why stop and go is costly! One stop can waste enough gasoline to take you 1/3 of a mile!

Shell engineers, recognizing the high cost of stop and go, have developed a way to "balance" gasoline. By completely rearranging its chemical structure, this process does to gasoline what cooking does to food—makes it "digestible."

Hence, under all driving conditions—starting, shifting gears, accelerating—your engine gets the full benefit of Super-Shell's high energy content.

Try Super-Shell next time. There's a Shell dealer near you.
